DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Neil et al (US Publication No. 2003/0071509).

Neil et al show frame assembly (10), which can be used as a backrest, comprising a main frame (12) including a groove (18) defined in a side and extending along an entire length. The groove is delimited by a bottom wall and an inner peripheral wall having an endless end face. A mesh (28) (see page 2, section [0027]) is fixed to the end face of the inner peripheral wall delimiting the groove. A decorative frame (26) is mounted to the side of the main frame and covering the groove and the end face of the main frame, and a covering member (16) covering the decorative frame (see attached Appendix A).

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 3636

Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Grosfillex, Tornero, Ballendat, Stenzel et al, and Antoine are cited as showing similar types of backrest frame.
